Mass Intentsions
Diocesan policy allows multiple intentions be said at a single Liturgy, and we still have an abundance of uncelebrated Mass Intentions. Beginning with Advent, we will be celebrating multiple intentions at each of the weekend Liturgies. If you have questions, please call the church office at 754-1266.

The Afterlife of Our Dreams

In a way, Jesus had some good news and some bad news for the Sadducees in the gospel today. They were the religious group who didn’t believe in resurrection after death. So Jesus’ good news for them is, “Guess what? YES, there IS an afterlife.” But the bad news from their perspective would probably be—there’s no marriage in heaven!

But that is only followed by Jesus’ even better news, that something even more wonderful than marriage awaits us in the afterlife. This is hard to believe for anyone who says, “What could be better than being with my sweetie?”

The energy and living vitality of the love we give and receive here will become “the substance of things hoped for” in the afterlife. And I believe we will share in all of the love relationships which have been the substance of life for millions of others. We will finally experience love from the eye-witness perspective of every plant, animal, and person who has received or given love in their lifetime.

I cannot begin to describe what that will feel like—a million nuclear explosions, times a million, maybe? Perhaps that is why every painter has given us a different view, every poet can only take on expressing a small sliver of that reality. And every believer has only their hope, and the love they give in everyday life, to rely upon.

This is why no expression of love is too small. No giving of love by any creature ever goes unnoticed by God. And no moment of love ever dies. That is why we know there is an amazing afterlife. Marriage will pale by comparison.

A Family Perspective

The question of the Sadducees to Jesus is framed in a story about a family with seven brothers and their sister-in-law. Through story telling, families remember their shared past and the companionship of God in their family from generation to generation.

Join the Welcome Ministry

As retirement came prematurely to me, I could not imagine what I would do with all that time. I don’t worry anymore. As team leader of 3 ministries, I have had more blessings than I can count in volunteering at Holy Family. The support and superb assistance of the people in these ministries is overwhelming. Please consider volunteering for the Welcoming Ministry. We are making a difference by welcoming our new parishioners. We provide a welcome tote bag full of information and token gifts for the family. We also host a new parishioner reception each year. If you would like to hear more about this terrific group, please call me at 748-0812. Thank you.

Janet Barna
